* A Reference Layer is a visual overlay that can be placed over the base map. A reference layer may be turned on or off (displayed or not displayed) by the user or overlaid on top of another reference layer. Information in a reference layer is not used to generate reports or analysis of a redistricting plan. Rather, the overlay contains information to which the user may refer when drawing a redistricting plan. For example – A user may refer to city council boundaries for purposes of alignment to new supervisorial district boundaries.
